Years' hopeful singing practice. First the stage director to show her cues, then the artistic director for costumes. Finally, just an hour before curtain, conductor Fritz Reiner sat down at the piano and gave her a quick musical rehearsal.

With each one of the applause grew and grew, until after the last she got a real ovation—eager demonstration of the evening—and was brought back for four encores, clapping and smiling.

Crazed Gunman Kills 5 Relatives

ings. The policemen forced the car to the side of the road and held the gunman at the point of a sub-machinegun as he climbed out of the car.

REAL ARSENAL
In his belt, Ingelito had a .38-caliber pistol. In the car were a German-made automatic weapon, a .38-caliber revolver, a .38-caliber carbine. Police said the automatic had a .38-caliber bullet which he made it in, a sub-machinegun.

On May one, he's looking for. Ingelito said calmly as he surrendered without a struggle. On Ingelito's left wrist were eight bullet wounds. On the car seat was a barbed-wire razor. Police said he had tried to commit suicide.

CHRONOLOGY OF CRIME
Police reconstructed this chronology: The shooting: 1. At 8 p.m. EST, Ingelito went to the home of his father-in-law and asked to see his two children, Ernesto and Juanita, 2.

Mrs. Ingelito told her husband he was prohibited under a court order from seeing his children. Ingelito then shot his father-in-law, mother-in-law and wife. With the smoking weapon still in his hand, he dashed across the street to the Phipps home. His wife's grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Phipps, had heard the shots and was standing at her doorway.

Ingelito turned on the gun on Mrs. Phipps and also on Marion Phipps, who was running to the door at that moment. Both women fell.

STEPS OVER BODIES
The crazed gunman stepped over their bodies and walked to the kitchen. Seated around the table were Armando Phipps, 41, and Tessie Phipps, 41. Sitting nearby was the 10-year-old son of Armando Phipps.

Moved and opened fire. The three were killed. Armando Phipps, 41, and Tessie Phipps, 41, and the 10-year-old son of Armando Phipps.

Their assistant ran from the house, drove five miles to Minnola house, and called the home of Frank Mazzoli.

"I cleaned out the other family," Ingelito boasted. "I came here to kill Mazzoli."

BLAZE OF GUNFIRE
Mazzoli and his wife fell in a blaze of gunfire.

By that time, police were already speeding to the Phipps home. When they had had to pass through a telephone call while the shooting was still in progress.

Some of the neighborhood heard some of the shots and the screaming of victims.

Police, who described the slightly-built, Ingelito as quiet-spoken and with a pleasant face, said the trouble began when he learned from the Ingelito family difficulties.

Projects cost the government $4,015,000. There was no corresponding expenditure last year.

The government's large scale debt retirement program, now underway, is outlined in the financial statement.

Using its accrued overall of $12,227,000, the government was able to retire $1,600,000 of its debt program, and to set $1,600,000 in a special investment fund.

(On June 1, 1950, through redemption and sale of debentures, the government paid off more than 19 million dollars of its public debt.)

Funded and unfunded debt of the province, as at Sept. 30, 1950, was $12,227,000.

At the end of September this year, the province had total cash and investments amounting to $39,018,700, compared to $44,770,944 at the same date in 1949.

South Manitoba Oil Discovered
WINNIPEG, Nov. 18.—(CP)—Resources Minister J. S. McDevitt announced today that oil has been found in Manitoba.

He said the oil, not yet in commercial quantities, was discovered at the Souris Valley Oil Company's Dunlop No. 1 well, 17 miles south of Melita.

Melita is in the southwestern corner of Manitoba. McDevitt described the find as "encouraging but not yet plentiful." It was made between the 2,252 and 2,258-foot levels in the well.

Such youths are said to wear sloppy army field jackets for both sexes; rainbow-hued drape pants; loud apron jackets and "duffels" for boys, and long, light skirts, halwahts and saddle shoes for girls.

Harold S. Vincent, superintendent of public schools, said after meeting on the subject with principals that their goal is "proper decorum." Items of dress would be left to the discretion of Magr. Gervais told 200 Roman Catholic parents that help leaders made members perform "vigilant or obscure acts."

Tax Relief Bid Fails For Alta. Coal Firm

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—(CP)—Mining development costs cannot be written off against profits under the Income Tax Act, the income tax appeals board ruled today.

The Income Tax Act was amended in 1949 by a new statute, which the board decision now applies.

The board gave this finding in dismissing an appeal against a decision levied by the revenue department on the Alcoa Coal Company of Alberta.

REDUCTION SOUGHT
The company had sought to have its 1947 taxable revenue reduced by $21,366, representing partial amortization of its original development costs. The revenue department must throw out the claim on the ground the development expenditures already had been written off.

When the case came before the board, Chairman R. T. Graham stated that it had been departmental practice to allow such amortization against taxable income, but he added in his judgment that he could find nothing in the tax legislation to authorize the practice.

Korean War End Expected In Six Weeks
TOKYO, Nov. 18.—(UPI)—South Korea's acting prime minister, fresh from conferences with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, predicted today that the war in Korea will end in six weeks.

Sung Mo Shin, defense minister and acting prime minister of the Seoul government, said he felt that the United Nations would reach the entire length of Korea's frontier with Manchuria and Soviet Siberia by Christmas.

He indicated that MacArthur shared this view.

Sung Mo Shin said he also believed that Communist guerrillas would be driven from the Korean peninsula by the end of the year.

He rejected the British idea of a buffer state in North Korea, south of the Yalu River-Manchurian border.

"If anybody wants a buffer state, they can make it on the northern side of the Yalu River," he told a Tokyo press conference.

But Sung Mo Shin did not rule out the possibility of a peaceful settlement of the Yalu River electric power plant problem.

However, he said emphatically, even the plants and their output belong to Korea.

Steel Lack Gives Jitters in Windsor

Effect of U.S. Defence Plans Begins To Be Felt In Canada

By Noel Mosier

Exclusive to The Bulletin

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 18.—(BUP)—North America's growing steel shortage, Canada's biggest industrial headache since the war, is into the morale of this industrial hub today.

Executives and employees of the multi-million dollar industries in Windsor were uneasy and bewildered, and industrial spokesmen forecast the feeling would spread slowly through the rest of the country.

Steel shortages in the United States have slowed assembly lines in many parts of that nation, and the ripples are being felt here. Merchants said Christmas business was indifferent, despite record industrial production and high wages.

The Ford Motor Company, largest auto producer in the Commonwealth, reported no adjustment "at present" in its schedule as a result of the steel shortage. A spokesman said meetings were being held twice daily to study the situation which changed from hour to hour.

SITUATION VIEWED

An observed of the general situation said: "We are simply feeling the first economic ripples from the United States of the new war production. It won't get into full gear for another four to five months."

"Unless something develops to alleviate the situation, the country and its program of industrial and defence preparation is going to be seriously endangered."

Literacy Rate Upped In India

NEW DELHI, Nov. 18.—(Reuters)—The number of people who can read and write in India has increased by 3.4 per cent in the last nine years to 18 per cent of the population, a recent official estimate showed. The 1941 census disclosed that 22.6 per cent of the men and 14.6 per cent of the women were literate, giving an overall total of 14.6.

U.S. Aid Seen For Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa, Nov. 18.—(AP)—William C. Foster left for India yesterday after announcing that increased United States aid for Formosa is "very probable."

The head of the Economic Cooperation Administration is on a tour of the Orient. He conferred here with president Chiang Kai-shek.

Coffee Setup Black As Milk Rounds Halt

CHATHAM, Ont., Nov. 18.—(BUP)—Sixty thousand Kent County residents simmered over black coffee today awaiting the outcome of a milk delivery strike called by producers to back demands for a higher price.

All available milk supplies were earmarked for hospitals, invalids and babies. Dairymen promised to do their best to bring in additional supplies from London, Ont. The producers gave their final word yesterday when they said the strike, effective at midnight, would go on as scheduled.

Issue boiled over when milk distributors refused to give producers a 40-cent raise on the current $4 per hundredweight price. Judge Eric Cross of Woodstock was called in to arbitrate.

Cross recommended yesterday that the producers get a 20-cent for 17 days without sleep.

LONDON.—(CIP)—Joseph Baker, 32, was sent to jail for three months for loitering in his defence he said "sometimes I walk around that the producers get a 20-cent for 17 days without sleep."

DISTINGUISHED artists of concert field, Norah Drewett, piano, and Gesa de Kreez, violin, pleased Edmonton audience in recital here, Friday. Husband and wife team play brilliantly as duo, also excel in solos, have earned title "aristocrats" in musical world, critics agree.

'Aristocrats' of Concert Field Pleased With Recital Here

Aptly named the "aristocrats of the concert field," Gesa de Kreez, violin, and Norah Drewett, piano, gave a polished and sensitive recital last night in McDougall Church.

Both have had extensive concert careers before and since their marriage and to some extent this shows up in their playing. One was never so conscious of their musical teamwork last night as of their individual brilliance in the several works they played together.

Gesa de Kreez, the more famous of the two, excelled in works by two distinguished Hungarians, Zoltan Kodaly and Bela Bartok. The compositions by which they were represented last night are quite different, Kodaly's "Hungarian Adagio" being pure melody while Bartok's "Rumanian Dances" are characterized by intense rhythm.

Yet both have a unique Hungarian flavor, poignant and powerful, which Mr. de Kreez exploited beautifully.

As an encore she played her own transcription of a Bach

The final number on their program, Beethoven's Kreutzer Sonata, was performed in perfect taste but with less of the emotion which characterized their other selection.

125 Young Women Wanted By Church For Week

Christian Education Positions Open Overseas for Women

The United Church of Canada is looking for 125 young women annually to fill jobs in Christian education, medical, and other church work in Canada, Angola, Central India, Japan, Korea, China and Trinidad.

This was announced recently at Toronto by Miss Leslie Rowland, secretary of the personnel committee for women workers of the United Church of Canada.

Miss Rowland said that 450 women are now engaged in full-time church work in United Churches in Canada and overseas.

The work includes serving as missionaries in over 100 countries, in Toronto, to train women for the work of the church, other than the ordained ministry.

The United Church Training School is affiliated with Emmanuel College in Victoria, British Columbia.

For three years several courses have been carried out co-operatively with the Anglican Women's Training College, and the Presbyterian Ministry and Development Training Missionary and Development Training School, Principal of the United Church Training School, is Mrs. J. D. H. Hutchinson.

The course is a two-year program in which all except nurses and other specialists in the laboratory technique, home economics, etc., who take only one year.

Admission requirements are university degree or superior matriculation plus professional training and successful experience in a wide field such as teaching, nursing or business.

Appointments are made by the Women's Missionary Society for all graduates wishing to serve in home or overseas mission work or by the Committee on the Deaconess Order for those who choose to serve in self-supporting congregations, and by boards of the church in cases such as girls' work secretaries.

SWITCHING FROM comedy hits to dramatic roles is popular and versatile Cary Grant in MGM's suspense-filled "Crisis" which opens today at Empress Theatre. Lovely new actress Paula Raymond, plays Cary's wife in story of an adventurous and mysterious vacation.

Versatile Cary Grant Playing Role of Doctor

One of Hollywood's most popular and versatile actors, Cary Grant, has created more than a score of memorable film characterizations and has proved himself equally in comedy and dramatic roles.

His latest role is that of a doctor in suspense-filled MGM's "Crisis" with lovely new actress Paula Raymond. "Crisis" opens Saturday at the Empress.

Born Archibald Leach, in Bristol, England, he inherited his love of acting from his grandfather, well known on the English stage.

In his teens he joined the Prince Theatre in Bristol where he became more interested in show business and later ran away to join a popular acrobatic troupe. Sent back home, he later rejoined the troupe and sailed to New York City.

After that engagement he returned to England, an experienced actor.

Arthur Hammerstein signed Grant to a contract and brought him back to America to appear in "Golden Dawn" on Broadway. Many more Broadway "hits" parts followed and by 1931 he got his first chance at movies.

While waiting in Hollywood, Grant met a director who was preparing to make a screen test of a young woman with whom he had appeared in a Broadway play. The test was made.

But instead of signing the young

'Bob and Sally' To Be Booked At Rialto Starting Monday

Considerable degrees of economic courage and technical skill are required in the production of any movie.

But the degrees of each are magnified many times when the script matter deals with a topic of such vital social significance as that upon which "The Story of Bob and Sally," opening Monday at the Rialto, is based.

Every word in the script and every photographed scene was double-checked to be sure that while none of the dramatic impact was lost, nothing would be presented that might offend common decency and good taste.

In the case of "The Story of Bob and Sally" the story had dialogue were in the capable hands of one of the finest writers and authors of many outstanding screen plays, Mary C. Palmer.

Combining the essential woman's point of view the skilled craftsmanship of the inspired writer, Miss Palmer created a story that, while a marvel of simplicity, contains every nuance of shading from light comedy to grim, stark tragedy.

There is no "plot" in the straight technical sense, simply the straightforward narrative of a boy and girl, but a complete story, nothing glossed over, nothing left out.

As difficult was Miss Palmer's task of story construction, so was the producer's problem in making visual the incidents particularly those dealing with sex and marital woman, studio executives became more interested in the young man in the script test.

Two weeks later Archibald Leach was placed under a long-term contract with Paramount Studios and his name changed forthwith to Gary Grant.

SKY-ROCKETING
By 1936 Grant had become popular with most every studio company and headlined many top movies, but the tall handsome actor's career only began sky-rocketing recently with his many comedy films.

Today, Grant has changed from his recent series of comedy hits to the new dramatic role in "Crisis," now at the Empress.

World Champions Visit Fair Today

Alberta Boy Wheat Winner Promised Special Attention

TORONTO, Nov. 18.—(CP)—The Kings come today to the scene of their triumphs.

Five of the six world champions—one of them a 13-year-old Alberta boy—will visit the Royal Winter Fair and for prize-winning seed exhibits.

All will get red-carpet treatment, but a little extra special fuss is going into the welcome for young Ricky Sharpe, the Munson, Alta. schoolboy whose sample of Marquis wheat was judged best in the world. Here are a few things in store for him.

He'll be welcomed by Agriculture Minister Tom Kennedy of Ontario, taken to the biggest hotel in town for breakfast, then to Toronto's traffic-stopping Santa Claus parade, to the Fair and the vice-president's box at the horse show, and even to see Niagara Falls.

Other champions to get their trophies are E. W. Doucet, of Hanna City, Ill. for corn; Arthur Butarack of Palmer Falls, Ont. for potatoes; Albert Kneal of Rosemont, Sask. for barley; and Chris Mork of Dickson, Alta. for oats.

ONTARIO DAY
At the fair yesterday, Ontario farmers took the play away from the west by cleaning up in nearby Chiche.

Canadian Horse Takes Honors At Fair

TORONTO, Nov. 18.—(CP)—A Canadian-bred hunter has served his United States owner well at the Royal Winter Fair this week by winning several classes.

Royal Chief is a four-year-old Canadian hunter bred by the St. John Stables of Toronto and shown by Martin W. Smith, horse dealer from Middleburg, Va.

The Canadian Hunter won the midweight and heavy novice hunter class.

All breeds of sheep. Practically their only competition came from the United States. The Westerners picked up a few ribbons in Palomino and Percheron horses, but it wasn't the west's day.

About the most exciting show of the day was the international jumping competition, where Great Britain's Lt.-Col. Harry Llewellyn arrived up to all the rave notices about him from Europe by sending his fine jumper foxhunter over the nine-jump course in winning style.

It took four tie-breaking jumps to do it—a record for international competition in Canada— but his victory over second and third-place Mexican riders gave Britain its second victory in four years.

The Mexicans, long the world's best at this business, also have two wins. Other countries competing are Canada, the United States, the Republic of Ireland and the west by cleaning up in nearby Chiche.

Quebec Bush Doctor Runs Radio Network

CLOVA, Que., Nov. 18.—(CP)—A physician who operates his own bush radio network has come to be an indispensable man in this rugged northwestern Quebec area.

He is Dr. Paul L. Rivard, whose voice carries medical directions and other helpful information to bush parties far from his office. A physician with the International Paper Company, he carries out his humanitarian hobby with a 300-watt transmitter.

Survey parties far away in the bush depend on him for his nightly 8 p.m. time signal, right on the dot. He is in touch with as many as 24 parties. Each party carries a 25-pound portable sending and receiving set with a radius of 500 miles.

Regularly after the time signal Dr. Rivard checks each party on the status of its needs and relays messages.

Medical advice is frequently needed. Once a surveyor complained of a sore back and numbness in his legs.

Dr. Rivard diagnosed the trouble as a slipped spinal disc. A long-distance record for medical advice was given an Oblate missionary at Richmond Gulf, in North west Territory. An Eskimo woman had developed a "great abscess" under Dr. Rivard's direction the missionary successfully lanced the abscess and a cure was effected.

Noted Rabbi Dies At Mount Vernon

No More Blondes

We'll be right out of blondes in 250 years.

A statement like that make me wonder why scientists are trying to make people live longer. (Especially male people.)

Geneticists over at the University of Alberta say blondes are recessive and that's why they won't last. Brunets are dominant, the professors say, and that's why they shall inherit the earth.

Personally I think this theory a lot of eyewash. Friend of mine is married to a blonde and she's dominating him all the time.

I know another guy who is hitched up to a brunet and he plays poker half the night and never gets bawled out. So there must be recessive brunets, too.

They tell us that genes are what causes blondes to be recessive and brunets to be dominant.

I think they spell genes the wrong way. Whether you're married to a recessive blonde or a dominant brunet the average male never has much in his jeans after payday.

How about a society for the preservation of blondes? Now we know what is meant by a Chinese puzzle after the happenings in North Korea.

One thing about the snow: Automobile drivers are not even bothered by their collective conscience when they whizz across those painted safety lines on Jasper avenue.

Wasn't Jeannette Smallwood lucky? Comely brunet cashier in Mac's picture area lost diamond out of ring on that so-significant left hand.

Tommy Gibson stepped on rock, examined shoe and asked who lost the result. Jeannette's still happily engaged.

Received a letter just before I went off to the football with Winthrop from some high school students who figure they have a bone to pick.

These youngsters are severely critical of action of teachers concerning extra-curricular activities during elections for students council.

For instance: One candidate requested he be allowed to play the piano during noon hour or after four as part of his campaign. He was told such piano-playing would disturb peace of the school.

Football team members put on a can-can dance at first "Lid" or entertainment program. It was a vow to both students and teachers. The principal said it was "off color and unintellectual."

They relate several other incidences in their letter and finish by asking: "Is this good democratic training?"

A warm goodnight to all and especially to recessive blondes and dominant brunets.

Royal Alexandra Hospital Has $8,103 October Deficit

Ten-month deficit on Royal Alexandra hospital operations this year was less than half that of the same period in 1949 and less than one-third the estimated deficit.

October deficit of $8,103 brought the 10-month deficit to $41,215, compared with a comparable 1949 figure of $99,481.

Estimated deficit to Oct. 31 this year was $130,000, according to figures presented by Superintendent Dr. D. R. Easton at last night's hospital board meeting.

Cost of hospital operation for first 10 months of 1960 was $58,000 above estimates, while total revenue surpassed estimates by $144,000.

Food costs were approximately three and one half per cent higher this year than last.

The board named Aid. Fred Mitchell, board chairman, A. Brown and Dr. Easton a building committee with power to act on appointment of architects for the $125,000 construction program approved by taxpayers Nov. 1.

Beekeepers Elect Slate of Officers

BANFF, Alta., Nov. 18.—(CP)—Norman Dymall of Smithville, Ont., yesterday was re-elected president of the Canadian Beekeepers Council at the conclusion of its annual meeting.

Also returned were Peter Kowalski, Edmonton, vice-president, and Roy Pugh, Tisdale, Sask., secretary-treasurer.

COLD WEATHER TIPS

Watch Attire, Humidity Health Officer Advises

Most people catch colds these winter days because they are careless about the clothes they wear outdoors or indoors.

"Proper clothing is probably the best known preventive against colds, yet some people insist on wearing outdoor apparel when the thermometer dips to freezing temperatures," states Dr. G. M. Little, city health officer.

Proper clothing means two things: wearing warm clothes outdoors and promptly removing the extra clothes when inside a house or other building. Dr. Little said.

The variation of temperature from indoors to outdoors and vice versa causes more colds than anything else," the doctor added.

Another point, from Dr. Little, keep the humidity up inside the building.

This is particularly important in the prairie provinces, where their extremely dry winter climates.

Dry air, the doctor said, leads to respiratory troubles. It absorbs moisture from the mucous membranes and leaves a rough, dry skin which readily picks up infection.

Ukrainian Word for Oil Discussed

CALGARY, Nov. 18.—(CP)—Evidence that there was no word in the Ukrainian language for petroleum when Simon Borys purchased land at Leduc, from the Canadian Pacific Railways in 1906 was given today before Chief Justice W. H. Howson in supreme court.

It was revealed that the word "oil," meaning oil, was used. Michael Borys, present owner of the land, claims ownership to the natural gas under the land. The C.P.R. and Imperial Oil Ltd. claim they are entitled to the petroleum and natural gas.

BOUGHT LAND

Simon Borys, through an interpreter, said when he purchased the land from the C.P.R. station agent at Leduc he was told the company reserved rights to the oil, coal and petroleum stored.

Asked what the word for petroleum was in Ukrainian, Borys replied "I do not understand it." Asked for the Ukrainian word for oil, he replied "shila."

Simon Fedor, of Edmonton, Imperial Oil claims agent, testified he used the word "shila" when talking to Ukrainian applicants for damages done on oil lands. He said under cross-examination that Simon Borys was his grandfather and Michael Borys was his uncle.

Roper Re-Elected As Leader of CCF

Intimates It May Be Last Term in Post

By Barney McKinley

Veteran Co-operative Commonwealth Federation stalwart Elmer E. Roper will lead Alberta's CCF party for another year—but that may be his last time in the post.

Final Election Results Issued

OLDS, Alta., Nov. 18.—(CP)—(Special Credit M.A.-Sec.) Fred Nidder won 32 of the 41 seats in the CCF's provincial executive and Joe Peterson, Cherrhill, was elected first vice-president.

Harold E. Bronson, Cherrhill, was re-elected president.

Mrs. Nellie Peterson, Mayor, were chosen Alberta representatives, and J. E. Cook, Edmonton, speaker of the CCF national convention in Edmonton.

OTHER OFFICERS

R. H. Carlyle, Blackfalds, Alta., was re-elected president of the CCF's provincial executive and Joe Peterson, Cherrhill, was elected first vice-president.

Harold E. Bronson, Cherrhill, was re-elected president.

Mrs. Nellie Peterson, Mayor, were chosen Alberta representatives, and J. E. Cook, Edmonton, speaker of the CCF national convention in Edmonton.

TRUE IDEAS

"The idea on which the CCF is based are as true today as when they were declared at Regina in 1920," Professor Frank R. Scott, Montreal, former national chairman of the CCF, told a public meeting in the Masonic Hall last night.

His speech marked highlight of busy day for CCF delegates from all parts of the province gathered here for the party's annual provincial convention.

"The CCF in that Regina Manifesto gave a new political philosophy to Canada," Prof. Scott added. It proclaimed the simple truth that the economic system exists for supplying human needs rather than making profits.

"Ontario's policy... of giving big business free hand has ruined the Canadian people of benefits they have a right to expect," the speaker asserted. "We still lack the lowest housing, the old age insurance, the public health insurance."

Wallpaper Care Lengthens Life

Removal of Gouges, Stains Easily Remedied Difficulties

Has Junior left a smudgy reproduction of his fingerprints on your wallpapered walls? Or have you had an unfortunate accident, when moving furniture around, that gouged a piece out of your wallpaper? Don't worry. These and other wallpaper difficulties can be simply remedied.

Most of the modern wallpapers, being washable, are easily cleaned with a mild solution of soap (fakes) and warm water.

First of all, make sure that all loose dust and dirt have been removed by going over the entire surface with a soft cloth.

Wet both the dirty spot and surrounding area with the soap solution and wash with free, easy strokes. Then, immediately rinse thoroughly with clear, cold water.

NOT WASHABLE
Many of the inexpensive papers are not washable and so great care should be exercised when a cleaning job is done.

There are many cleaners on the market, the most popular of which is a petroleum substance that can be purchased in paint or hardware stores.

It is used by taking a folded mass in the hands and working it until it is warm and plastic. Then, the wallpaper is simply wiped with the cleaner in long, even strokes.

Because the outside of this cleaner constantly gets dirty, the mass should be constantly renewed in the hands, so that the fresh clean parts are brought to the surface.

BLOTTING PAPER
To remove grease or oil spots from wallpaper, press a piece of white blotting paper against the spot with a hot iron for several minutes. Most of the grease will melt and will be soaked up by the blotter.

Another method makes use of a thick paste of Fuller's earth and benzene or carbon tetrachloride, applied in a thin coat over the spot. After it is dried, it is brushed off. Ink spots can be removed with ink remover, a liquid obtainable in stationary stores. This will probably remove the pattern in the wallpaper, too, but, if the spot is small, the paper can be repaired with water-color paint such as children use.

With a little care and an eye to matching color, even patterns can be refixed to the paper.

SIMPLE MATTER
Whenever wallpaper becomes loosened at the edges it is a simple matter to stick it back into place with ordinary library paste. Press down lightly, using a clean blotter to protect the paper.

When bulges occur in paper, a roll made through the bulge with a razor edge will allow paste to be forced behind the paper. Then, press the paper carefully with a soft cloth.

If wallpaper has become badly torn or defaced, it is a simple matter to apply a patch and if this is done carefully the defect should be practically invisible.

EXTRA PIECE
When there is an extra piece of the wallpaper on hand, select a portion to match the pattern and tear off, testing being done from the back to leave edges that are thin and feathery.

The paper should not be cut because sharp edges cannot be concealed. The patch is then covered with paste and applied to the wall in match with the pattern, the edges being lightly brushed and rubbed into contact.

By using enough paste, the patch can be held to the exact matching position.

To match the paper that is faded, place the new piece directly in the sun and leave it till it has faded to exactly the wall's paleness. Then match the patch carefully as it is put on.

CANADA DRUG ADDICTS FEW IN COMPARISON

TORONTO — (CP) — Canada has between 3,000 and 4,000 known drug addicts, says K. C. Hostett, the man responsible for narcotic control. This compares with a population of nearly 14,000,000.

Mr. Hostett, chief of the division of narcotic control, department of national health and welfare, writes in the Canadian Medical Association Journal that some 2,000 of these have come to the attention of authorities by being involved in drug violations.

The balance, while unconvicted of any offence, are definitely known to be addicts.

Mr. Hostett also writes that an "increasing number" of cases of personal addiction by doctors has been noted in the last three years.

They Feel Like Santa

Bricklayers at a glass housing project in Los Angeles must have felt like Santa Claus on Christmas Eve as they worked on one-man elevators inside the project's chimneys.

The inside of the concrete stacks had to be lined with brick. To do the job, bricklayers rigged up tiny elevators inside the stacks on which they worked.

Controls on the elevators allowed the bricklayer to move up as his work progressed and to lower himself to the ground for more brick and mortar.

An electric motor and winch, mounted on a frame that straddled the stack opening, provided the power.

There are 18 chimneys, each 150 feet high, in the project. It took 13,000 bricks to line each stack and the bricklaying time per stack was between 11 and 14 days.

BASIC PRINCIPLES

Knowledge Increases House-Building Pleasure

Knowing something about the basic principles of construction can make things more interesting for you while you watch your house grow.

You will find the carpenters taking great pains in fitting and placing certain timbers. Much of their work is to make the house rigid and strong. Stabilized floors, prevention of vibration and provision for insulation are all important details of a sound structure.

Framework of your house is a hidden skeleton. It is made up of studs, joists, bridging, plates, beams, rafters and various other members assembled to give strength and stiffness to a house. Since lumber is used predominantly for this framing, it pays to know something about it.

The U.S. Southern Pine Association points out that "green" lumber, as it comes from the tree, is literally saturated with water.

Seasoning to reduce that moisture content is necessary to shrink the lumber to more or less permanent size. Without proper seasoning, the lumber will shrink after it is in your house and aggravate plaster cracks, cause doors to open and doors to stick far beyond normal conditions.

If you buy quality lumber you can be fairly certain of a minimum of shrinkage after your house is built.

Adequate nailing is so important that the U.S. government has issued a technical guide available through the Superintendent of Documents, Harold Sleeper, New York architect and expert on the small house, points out that the extra nails required to insure sound construction add no more than $3 to $4 to the cost of a house.

With a little care and an eye to matching color, even patterns can be refixed to the paper.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A group of 22 Labor members of Parliament urged the government today to propose a line in Korea at which United Nations forces would stop "with a view to bringing the fighting to an end."

They also asked the Western allies to put forth counter-proposals for a Big Four conference on Germany suggested by Russia.

Most of the members of the House of Commons who signed the two motions belong to the Labor party's left wing.
